DETAILED ACTION

1. This application has been examined. The amendment filed 3/30/05 has been entered.
2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.
3. Claims 11-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. These claims are directed to computer program products which comprise computer readable mediums, but according to the specification pages 1-2, a computer readable medium could be a software data stream. Data streams, electronic signals, and program code embodied on a signal, are all mediums, but they are not statutory mediums.
4. Claims 1-10 and 16-28 are allowable over the prior art of record. The amendment adds the necessary features to all the independent claims including the multiple text fields and locations which are thus matched according to the technique of the present invention. The features combined in the independent claims overcome the access authority and otherwise prior art of record.
